

Sylvie Meuffels, 2009

'JSPR Office' represents a new collection of office furniture and accessories to make the office space more personal and more sophisticated. The first product of this new collection is a unique desk that offers you the possibility to create your own ideal work space by choosing from a variety of sizes, table legs, or drawers in 6 different colours. There is also a possibility to integrate a glass panel in the table top, where you can exhibit your dearest belongings or personal collections. JSPR will keep expanding the office collection in the future.
