ABOUT US

Memorable Design: Lighting & Furniture

Our design team is lead by founder and head designer, Jasper van Grootel. This design team forms the heart of the company and is absolutely passionate about interior. Designing distinctive and extraordinary lighting and furniture collections is what they do best, whether it is for one of our own collections, or a custom design for your project. JSPR sometimes collaborates with other, independent designers or artists to create a varied collection with both industrial, colorful or chic designs.

Craftmanship: from sketch to use

What our designers see, is what the hands of our producers make. Our production team makes sure every product is realized to everybody's maximum satisfaction. All JSPR products are made in or around our homebase Eindhoven (NL). All products made by us will have in common that they are classic with a modern twist, retro but with innovative materials and nostalgic but with an eye on the future. We offer high quality with an unexpected touch. Creativity combined with professional craftsmanship. That's what JSPR represents.

About Jasper

It was 2005 when Jasper graduated from the well appreciated Design Academy in Eindhoven (NL). He was determined to start designing for his own future label and therefore started JSPR in his fourth and final year at the DAE. After more than 12 years of successful designs it is clear that interior is Jasper's passion, and you will most likely see him design something that is not applicable for this branch. What Jasper loves the most about his work? Seeing a product grow from sketch, to final product, to decorating leading hotels and restaurants all around the world.

DAHLIA

Designer: Jasper van Grootel

The Dahlia collection is inspired by the geometry of the Dahlia flower, whose petals spiral from the center with a mesmerizing pattern. This fascinating pattern, based on the Fibonacci sequence or well-known Golden Ratio, led to a collection of large illuminated light flowers.

The Dahlia collection consists of two standard sizes and a wall-light, available in seven different colors. Each Dahlia is handcrafted from anodized aluminum and offers both functional and decorative light: The rotating center spot light is accompanied by a powerful LED strip that acts as mood light.

The dimmable center spot light can be aimed any direction downwards in approximately 135 degree angle. The LED strip that illuminates the fixture it self can also be dimmed separately.

The Lines collection is primarily inspired on the Aurora collection which has become a true JSPP classic.
